LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Welcome to the 2016 ATHENA yearbook. I am so happy you have picked up a copy. My name is Alex, and I am the editor-in-chief of this edition of The Athena Yearbook.

The production of Ohio University's yearbook is a collaborative effort among many partners: from student organizations to OHIO's colleges, many people and teams supported the creation of the yearbook. Because the yearbook staff is small, we must rely on the people who are involved in different pursuits to share their content with the staff. The yearbook staff acts as a content aggregator, publishing the content provided on behalf of others. The yearbook staff sent many calls for content to various groups on campus. Although we did not receive content from every group we solicited, we are very proud to share with you the content of those who provided their images and text.

This year, I am so happy to have the opportunity to work with Taylor Gardner, Assistant Editor; Lexi Rodgers, Editor of Design; and Erika Roberts, Editor of Photography. Along with Sarah McDowell, our advisor, and the support of Jennifer Bowie, I have been lucky to have such a dedicated and hardworking staff and support system. During our time together, Taylor and I have developed the ability to communicate without talking, or talking in ways understandable to others. This has been much to our advantage as I often struggle to find words to accurately describe myself. Lexi has been a wonderful asset to the staff, she has a creative mind and skillset that will get her far in life. Her work with the book will forever be cherished, especially in helping to bring the book into the 21 century. One of the most important, if not the most important, parts of a yearbook is the photographs. Without Erika, the following pages would be mostly blank. I am so thankful for Erika's work to collect and take countless photographs.

It is my hope, that through the continued efforts of future yearbook staffs, the yearbook will continue to gain momentum and popularity among all OHIO community members. It is always the goal of the ATHENA staff to produce a book better than the last, a book that adds value to the OHIO experience, and provides a means for documenting and achieving the student perspective at Ohio University. I think we did that with this book, and I hope you do as well.

Thank you for picking up a copy of the 2016 ATHENA!

Alex D. Molnar

ACADEMICS

College of Arts and Sciences

The College of Arts and Sciences has a vast amount of departments and majors to help specialize your learning experience. The college prepares students for successful lives by advancing their personal and intellectual growth. Curricula cover Humanities, Natural Sciences, and Social Sciences. The college provides the primary instruction for approximately one-third of the undergraduate majors on campus. The college also offers a number of masters programs and eight departments offer doctoral programs.

The Ridges Land Lab is a topographically and biologically diverse natural area for instruction and research in field biology, environmental geography, and ecosystem ecology. 3 The Margaret M. Walter Hall was made possible by a $5 million gift from Robert D. Walter and his wife Margaret McGreevy Walter, both 1967 Ohio University graduates.

College of Business

The College of Business provides opportunities to learn about the world and yourself and apply it to leadership opportunities and transforming the world. Through transformative experiences, the college helps hone in on skills that employers value and improves leadership and professional development.

1 Ohio University College of Business alumni and their families make their way down a table of food at the College of Business Homecoming tailgating event on October 10, 2015 at Ohio University's Tailgreet Park. 2 A team of Masters of Athletic Administration (MAA) students attempt to lower a tent pole to the ground during the "Helium Stick" at The Ridges on Friday, June 26, 2015. 3/4 Emerging Leaders The Emerging Leader Development Program is presented by the College of Business and Voinovich School of Leadership and Public Affairs through a partnership with the Center for Entrepreneurship.

College of Fine Arts

The College of Fine Arts engages students through a challenging and supportive learning environment. It is a vibrant community of different art disciplines where they find everything they need to develop and expand their talents and skills. The college offers many ways for students to display their talents for the community. The college houses many different academic programs that provide a strong foundation in arts and cultures with opportunities for specialized professional training.

The gallery hosts three to five exhibitions per year of works by nationally and regionally known artists of all disciplines.

College of Health Sciences and Professions

In the College of Health Sciences and Professions, students learn and work in an interdisciplinary environment, care simulations, collaborating research, and community outreach. Their mission is to educate students through rigorous curricular activities to prepare them for leadership in the work environment. It is where purposeful lives and brilliant careers begin. Where everything connects.

Honors Tutorial College

O

Ohio's Honors Tutorial College (HTC) is one of a kind: the only degree-granting tutorial college in the United States. Students benefit from a learning experience like no other, working one-on-one with faculty members in tutorials. HTC patterns its fundamental teaching approach after the centuries old tutorial system used at Oxford and Cambridge universities in Great Britain. One-on-one and small-group tutorials offer a unique, student-centered approach to undergraduate education. The HTC offers more than 30 challenging programs of study that provide a unique undergraduate experience.

Heritage College of Osteopathic Medicine

Our medical school educates physicians committed to practice in Ohio, emphasizes primary care, engages in focused research, and embraces both Appalachian and urban communities. Integral to this mission, our college community commits itself to: provide a clinically integrated, learning-centered, osteopathic medical education continuum for students, interns, residents and fellows; embrace diversity and public service; and improve the health and well-being of underserved populations.

1 The Clinical & Translational Research Unit is a centralized resource that supports Ohio University faculty, staff and students who are conducting clinical research with human subjects. The Heritage College's research activities are helping to forge new ties with the general public, the scientific community, health care professionals and the biomedical and pharmaceutical industries. 2 First-year medical student Andrew Goldblum and 50 other new medical students arrived for their first classes on Wednesday, July 8, at the new Ohio University campus in the Cleveland area.

Gladys W. and David H. Patton College of Education

The Gladys W. and David H. Patton College of Education recently started the remodeling of McCracken Hall. It is scheduled to be finished in 2017. This year their theme was: Advocate, Unite, and Inspire! The college has five departments including Counseling and Higher Education, Educational Studies, Human and Consumer Sciences, Recreation and Sport Pedagogy, and Teacher Education. The college continuously improves to ensure college and career readiness.

Russ College of Engineering and Technology

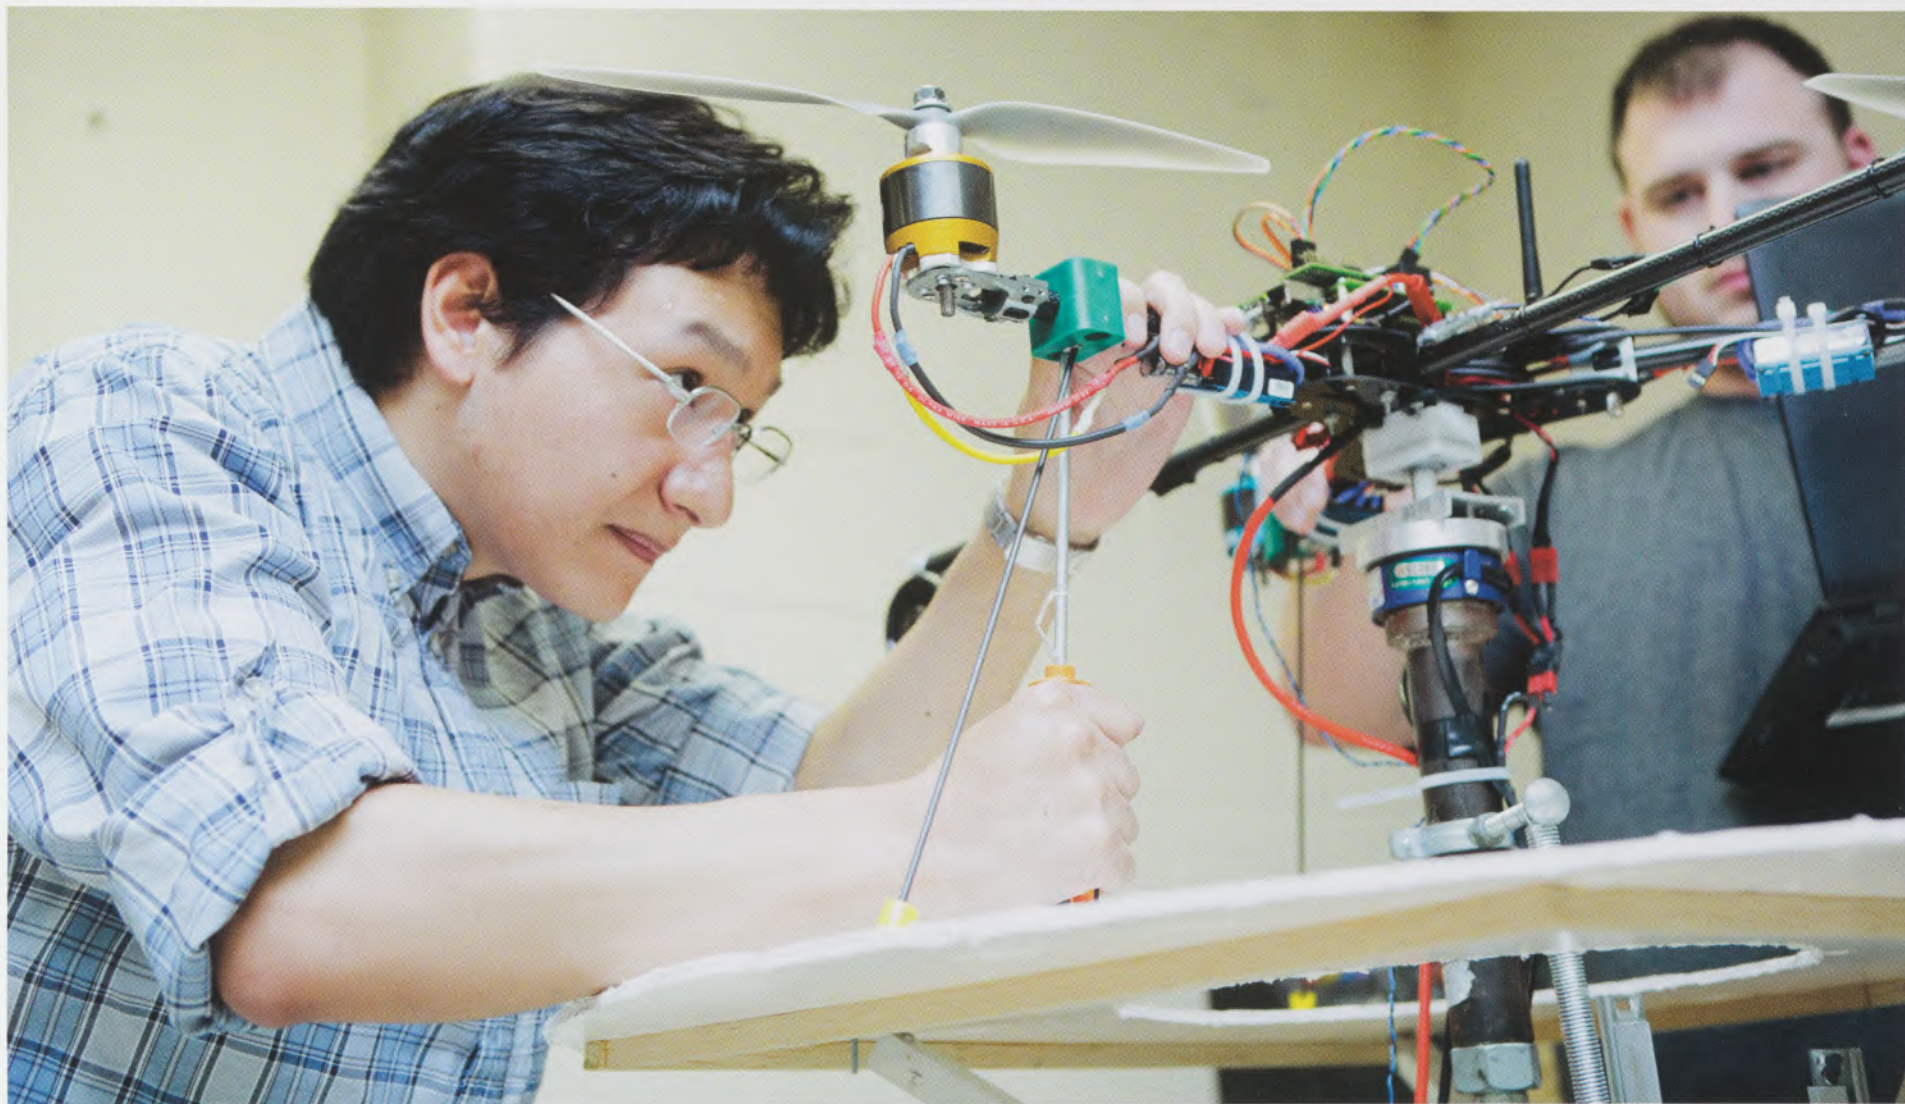

Russ College students rarely shy away from a challenge. So when a team of nine engineering students from the OHIO chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) had the opportunity to compete in the 2015 Human Powered Vehicle Challenge (HPVC) in Florida, they jumped in with both feet – and three wheels. The first OHIO team to compete in the HPVC, they pitted their self-designed three-wheeled recumbent trike against other university teams from around the country. Placing 13th overall and receiving a sportsmanship award for helping other teams keep their vehicles on track, the team returned to OHIO only wanting more. This year's challenge? OHIO and the Russ College will host the 2016 HPVC East competition, which will draw hundreds of student teams from across the globe to Athens from May 13-15. Eager to share the beauty of campus with their peers, mechanical engineering master's student Cody Petitt is heading up competition planning, and sophomores Justin Gillum and Matt McKenzie are the team captains who will lead OHIO across the finish line.

Forty-eight hours. Six strangers. One idea. Fall 2016's Startup Weekend Athens, organized by OHIO's Innovation Center, brought together computer science seniors Wilson Taylor and Zach Perrault, mechanical engineering seniors John Herbert and Peter Shoup, specialized studies senior Amy Miller, and finance analytics and management information systems senior Mikey Greive to form team "Combat Interactive." Their idea? Combine martial arts and cutting edge virtual reality technology to make training outside of the dojo easier. Using an Xbox Kinect to capture real-time motions and an Oculus Rift to visualize the virtual environment, the team walked away with second place and more than $1,600 in prizes.

Five electrical engineering students took their senior capstone design course project a step further, and their ambitions paid off. They placed second out of 27 international teams in the 2015 Institute for Electrical and Electronics Engineers Antennas and Propagation Society Antenna Design Challenge in Vancouver, Canada. Tasked with designing and building a Bluetooth antenna for a body area network (BAN) – a system of devices worn either on or near a person's body that operate for the benefit of the user – the competition's only all-undergraduate team designed a wearable medical device with five sensors that measure ambient and body temperatures, heart rate, oxygen levels and fall detection and send that data to an Android smartphone app through a Bluetooth antenna.

Scripps College of Communication

The Scripps College of Communication seeks to educate and produce innovative leaders who will shape the future of communications. It fosters multicultural awareness with a diverse community. The college values curriculum, research, and creative activity that provide benefits to people regionally, nationally and internationally. It provides leadership by preparing students to be effective and responsible communicators in a global society.

University College

University College promotes the intellectual and personal development of undergraduates and especially focuses on the needs of first-year students. Through its professional advising and effective programs and services, University College promotes undergraduates' academic success and co-curricular engagement, facilitates their pivotal transitions, and fosters the formation of community among students, faculty, and staff.

At the bottom of the image, there are five overlapping triangles in red, teal, orange, green, and purple.

ORGANIZATIONS

Women's Mentoring Program

The Women's Mentoring Program provides an opportunity for sophomore, junior and senior students at Ohio University to connect with a female mentor in their personal and professional fields of interest. The program enriches the student experience by pairing committed students with a mentor who can offer guidance and encouragement, assisting them in reaching their personal and professional goals.

Ohio Dodgeball

Ohio Bobcat Dodgeball is created in hopes to become a club sport of Ohio University and compete in the National Collegiate Dodgeball Association. To be a part of Ohio Bobcat Dodgeball and play in tournaments is to just show up to practices and prove you want to play.

Chinese Learners Association

The CLA is one of the primary Chinese student organizations for some 1000 Chinese students and visiting scholars here at Ohio University. Our main goals are to promote academic excellence among Chinese students as well as international cultural understanding and diversity in the OU community. We help new Chinese students and visiting scholars adjust to life at OU and in the United States, and enhance cultural exchange by bringing traditional Chinese culture to life on campus and in the Athens community with celebrations of special Chinese festivities and cultural events throughout the academic year.

Project Escape

Project Escape aims to raise awareness and fundraise for global and local causes that will give children brighter futures. Project Escape was founded this past fall semester. Join us in making a difference in the lives of children.

1 Raising awareness about children who live in poverty. 2 Project Escape raised awareness, fundraised, and participated in this year's Good Works Walk. # Student Athletic Training

Ohio University hosted its first Ohio Athletic Trainers' Association (OATA) Student Symposium and Quiz Bowl this past January. Undergraduate athletic training students Miranda North and Alicia Price; Ohio University OATA student senators Brooke Kapple, Emma Fish, and Ethan Fleming; and faculty members Kayla Shinew and Kris Ensign planned and organized the event, which welcomed approximately 300 students from all five Ohio districts. Speakers included Scott Sailor, president of the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA), Jeff Russell, director of the OHIO SHAPe Clinic, Dustin Grooms, OHIO assistant professor of athletic training and musculoskeletal injury and rehabilitation researcher, and Sergio Ulloa, OHIO team physician and OhioHealth O'Bleness Hospital and Athens

Medical Associates affiliate. After listening to morning lectures, students divided up to attend afternoon hands-on workshops and labs that included yoga rehabilitation, the OHIO Physical Therapy gait lab, performing arts theater extrication, spine boarding on the ice in Bird arena, and a casting lab. The event was capped off with a quiz bowl competition. All AT faculty members attended the symposium. The event also collected donations for Ronald McDonald charities as a part of the Great Lakes Athletic Training Association Student Service Project.

CSLC

Community Service Leadership Council

The Community Service Leadership Council had its first successful year hosting Athens Beautification Day. The 11th annual Athens Beautification Day drew in over 900 participants to College Green on April 19th, 2015.

Elegant Citizens Society

ECS is a social and professional organization dedicated to providing Ohio University students with opportunities to learn about classic and contemporary etiquette in the contexts of business and culture. The 2015-2016 academic year was dedicated to building students' professional skills and preparing for our annual social event. This year our Fairytale Ball was filled with merriment and delicious themed foods, as well as eye-catching costumes fit for royalty!

Alpha Xi Delta

Alpha Xi Delta is a Women's Fraternity at Ohio University and is part of the Women's Panhellenic Association. This year Alpha Xi Delta had a great time participating in events such as women's Panhellenic recruitment, Homecoming, and Greek Week. They also support their national philanthropy, Autism Speaks, with their events Xiesta, Fuzzie Football, and Fuzzie Water Wars.

Alpha Omicron Pi

Alpha Omicron Pi is a women's fraternity at Ohio University and is part of the Women's Panhellenic Association. Alpha Omicron Pi enjoyed participating in many Greek events this year, and won both Homecoming and Greek Week. They support their national philanthropy, The Arthritis Foundation, with their annual events Strike Out Arthritis and Slice Out Arthritis.

STUDENT LIFE

Halloween Block Party

This year's big Halloween Block Party, more commonly known as "HallOUween," was held on October 31, 2015. All of Court Street was shut down for the event where sixteen musicians and groups played and the annual costume contest was held. The event still reached the high attendance levels from the past years, despite rain and cold weather.

Homecoming

Homecoming ran from October 5 through October 11 this year and was packed with events for students and alumni. The homecoming theme this year was "Same Bricks, Different Stories". The Homecoming Parade on October 10 brought together students, alumni, faculty and OHIO community members. The parade was sponsored by the Campus Involvement Center and highlighted a myriad of great organizations from on and off campus.

Pack the Pantry

Pack the Pantry was held as part of Ohio University's Homecoming Week and is a week-long canned food drive sponsored by The Student Alumni Board. Students and organizations formed teams to compete to raise the most cans. Fraternity and sorority members participated in their own "Pack the Pantry: Greek Day" event on October 6 at Konneker Alumni Center to compete for Greek Week points. All the cans and money raised from these events went to the Athens County Food Pantry.

International Week

International Week was held from April 10 through 16 and was aimed to creating a week of events that would engage students and facilitate international Awareness and Diversity. The events included an International Talent and Fashion Show, A Global Taste where attendees could try food from difference cultures, and The International Street Fair. The street fair allows organizations and groups to set up booths along Court Street and to participate in a parade down Court Street holding flags from all different nations.

International Women's Festival

The International Women's Festival was held on March 13, 2016 at the Baker Ballroom and featured songs, poems and dances from women of all backgrounds. The festival credits itself as being held to highlight the achievements of women and girls, to reflect on women's status today, and to imagine a future where all women are valued as local, national, and global citizens.

New Residence Halls

Construction on the new residence halls began in May of 2013; they opened in August of 2015. The construction included four new residence halls names Luchs, Tanaka, Carr, and Sowle and the Living Learning Center, which is located in the middle of the four buildings. The halls are suite style dorms with study locations and lounges on each floor. Each building has it's own kitchen and laundry located on the first floor. Tanaka is a first-year student hall, Luchs is a mix of freshman and upperclassmen, and Carr and Sowle are upperclassmen-only. The halls are located on South Green, near Adams Hall and Nelson Dinning Hall.

Activism

A sit in was held on October 23 in Cutler Hall to protest what they saw as the university getting rid of the Survivor Advocacy Program. This was one of many demonstrations held this year. Students involved with the Black Lives Matter Movement and by the groups F*** Rape Culture and The Ohio University Student Union were also active on campus.

Tobacco Free Campus

Ohio University supports a smoke and tobacco-free campus to promote respect for others and the environment, and as a major wellness initiative for all members of the OHIO community. The tobacco-free initiative (TFI) encourages a cleaner and greener campus while preparing our students for future tobacco-free environments. Effective August 1, 2015, the use of all types of tobacco products was prohibited in all Athens campus facilities, property, and grounds used to carry out the mission of the university. This extends to sidewalks adjacent to university buildings and grounds and personal vehicles on university property.

ADA 25

The Presidential Advisory Council on Disability and Accessibility Planning and the City Commission of Disabilities coordinated a series of events during the month of October in celebration of the 25 year of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act.

MLK Celebration

The Martin Luther King Celebration Committee is composed of OHIO faculty, staff, students and community members throughout Athens, OH. Annually, these groups come together and organize our community's largest tribute to the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. The mission is to honor the life and legacy of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., with an inclusive OHIO and Athens community tribute that highlights equality and social justice issues.

Relay for Life

OHIO students, alumni, and Athens residents walked laps, played games and slept on the ground to raise money as part of the 2016 Relay for Life of Ohio University. The event took place in the Walter Fieldhouse, where 39 teams and over 500 people participated. The fundraiser had raised more than $23,000 for the American Cancer Society as of press time, and will continue to raise money until August.

BobcaThon

BobcaThon is a year-long effort to raise money for the Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC) in Columbus, Ohio. This is the largest Ronald McDonald House in the entire world. BobcaThon 2016 took place on February 13, 2016 and raised $40,473.01 for RMHC.

Sibs Weekend

From February 5 to 7, big and little sibs were invited to have a taste of college life and to bond with their brother or sister.

Greek Week

Fest Season

Fest Season began on March 11 and ended on April 16. There were six fests including Milliron, Mill, High, Palmer Place, Palmer, and 14 Fest. 14 Fest had performers Fetty Wap, the Chainsmokers, Lil Dicky and many more.

Athens Beautification Day

Each spring, members of the Ohio University community join forces with Athens residents for a day dedicated to community service and giving back to the city they all call home. One of the largest community service events in the city, the 12 annual Athens Beautification Day was on Sunday, April 17. Ohio University's Community Service Leadership Council sponsored the event.
